 Young Vincentians (England & Wales)

Welcome and Introduction: SVP1833

Overview:

The St Vincent de Paul Society (SVP) is an international volunteer organisation whose members work with anyone in need in their local community – the homeless, the elderly, prisoners, struggling families, people who are sick and lonely. Young adults are an important part of the Vincentian family. We are all called to be like Jesus by helping people, becoming their friend and working with others to make a difference. When an SVP group is formed the SVP call it a conference; this goes back to our foundation in France where members were considered confreres – being like brothers and sisters!

The St. Vincent de Paul Society (SVP) in England and Wales runs programmes for young people in primary schools, secondary schools, colleges, universities and parishes. These conferences (groups) meet weekly or fortnightly to pray together, talk about the needs they see in their communities and to put positive action in place. All groups need at least one adult mentor to get the conference started and then it's up to the young adults to lead and take responsibility. This mentor is the main point of contact between the young adults in the group and the wider Society. Young adults flourish in their Vincentian groups by benefiting from the example of their peers. SVP1833 Conferences are an essential and highly valued part of the SVP family, as they encourage the nurturing of faith and increase the possibilities for young adults to carry out charitable works in a Vincentian spirit, within a supportive community.

Where we are working:

Befriending

Home visiting is the core work of the St Vincent de Paul Society in England & Wales. Home visits are mainly carried out in pairs, with conference members providing support to people experiencing hardships by offering them practical help. More importantly, our members offer emotional support to allow people to take control of their lives and continue the tradition established by Blessed Frederic Ozanam.

Advocacy

When the voice of the poor calls, we listen. Our grassroots approach to advocacy engages individuals, communities, organisations, faith groups and government. Our extensive network of SVP groups creates a safe and supportive environment for those who feel powerless, left behind or not listened to, where they are empowered to find a better and more fulfilling life. We apply the messages of Catholic Social Teaching (CST) to our work by placing human dignity, fairness and the collective good of society at the centre of our work. We seek to enable people, through on-the-ground support as well as our social justice work, to become their own spokespeople and hold those in power accountable.

Young Vincentians

All over England and Wales children, young people and young adults are taking up the invitation to join the Vincentian family and turn their concern into real action! These groups are based in schools, universities, youth hubs and parishes. The energy they bring is hugely important to the greater work of the St Vincent de Paul Society.

Community Support Projects

Community Support Projects (CSP) is the collective term we use to describe all the project work we do in the community. Community Support Projects includes our furniture stores, support centres, supported accommodation and our contract with the Home Office to manage and run local Approved Premises. SVP members are also involved with holiday camps and the running of local soup runs and food banks.

Camps

SVP Vinnie Camps have a wonderful heritage: for 100 years they have provided safe, inclusive and caring holidays for children in need of a break. Vinnie Camps are staffed by dedicated and caring volunteers, offering a high ratio of adult-to-child supervision. This means that each and every child receives a great deal of time and positive attention, perhaps more than some have ever known before. Summer holidays offer, first and foremost, fun and enjoyment. But they also provide an opportunity for respite, new learning experiences and personal growth.

Retail

We have a number of St Vincent's community shops all around England and Wales. The primary role of our shops is to help raise vital funds to support our work and mission. Every purchase made in our shops helps someone in need. Our shops are full of sustainable, ethically sourced and recycled products. By giving opportunities to shop sustainably, we are also doing our bit to reduce our impact on the environment and increase the life-span of a product that may otherwise go to a landfill.

Starting a Conference

The 3 point process of the SVP1833 conference is based around a method developed by Joseph Cardijn. His method of 'See, Judge, Act' is where we take our inspiration from for the process outlined below.

There is not a financial cost to an SVP1833 Conference.

Where is the need in our own communities?

Young adults are given the space and time to express their own concerns and reflections on the world they live in and experience.

What would Christ do, and how would he do it in modern society?

This time to reflect on the Gospel and example of Jesus is a key for the Vincentian family. We believe deeply that our responsibility is to preach the Gospel by our words and work.

Act in support of those in need!

The SVP is a family built on action. After action there is time to reflect upon how we have been Christlike, where we have seen Christ, and how to go about spreading the word and getting others involved.

Ways to connect:

We recognise how busy life can get and how budgets don't stretch far, so we've worked to offer new ways to connect!

1. Become an affiliated SVPI833 group – this means that you receive our resources, funding towards places on the Catholic Student Network Leadership conference, a termly newsletter with events and opportunities for your young adults (events include work experience in a Catholic Charity, subsidised pilgrimages and retreats). Connection to local service projects without a need to do paperwork, other than one expression of interest form.

2. Become a conference group – In the model of conference groups such as those set up by Blessed Frederic Ozanam at the start of the SVP, you'll get all the benefits of the affiliated groups, but we will also enable you to take on regulated activity like working in schools, prisons or visiting people in their own homes – this involves organizing DBS checks and we'll support you through the paperwork.

3. Individual membership offers the opportunity for young adults to connect and get involved in social action even if having a group is not possible. We can connect them to activities such as supporting the local SVP shop, collecting for SVP foodbanks, and campaigning for social justice. As individual members we will also send them resources to support their prayer life and connect them to other young adults who want to put their faith into action.

If you would like to connect either in person or virtually, please contact youngvincentians@svp.org.uk or Kezia Harrow on 07917923605.

Vincentian Family:

Blessed Frédéric Ozanam

The St Vincent de Paul Society was started in 1833 by Frédéric Ozanam, a 19 year old law student at the Sorbonne University. Responding to the great poverty in the Paris of his day, he and a group of friends began visiting the homes of the poor, bringing practical assistance of food and firewood, as well as something less tangible - empathy and love. Frederic and his friends began meeting regularly and formed the first conference. They decided to adopt the name of the St Vincent de Paul Society after the patron saint of charities.

Saint Vincent de Paul

Born into a poor family, Saint Vincent de Paul became a priest at the age of 19. He led an interesting life. At a young age, he was captured by pirates and sold into slavery. During this time, it was claimed he witnessed the terrible conditions in which slaves were forced to live. Upon becoming free, he had the opportunity to preach to the wealthy, but instead, he focused on spreading the Good News to people who were sick, orphaned, elderly, starving or abandoned. He was canonised (declared a saint) in 1737 and named the universal patron of Catholic charities in 1885.

Saint Louise de Marillac

With St Vincent de Paul, Louise started the Daughters of Charity (an order of nuns) in 1642. The Daughters of Charity were a revolutionary order of the poor. They helped abandoned children, people who were poor and sick, wounded soldiers, slaves, people who were mentally ill and the elderly. Today, there are over 20,000 Daughters of Charity, and they continue to help people in need. Louise is the patron saint of sick people, widows and orphans, and in 1960, Pope John XXIII proclaimed her the Patroness of Social Workers.

Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati

Was an active member of the SVP, and in his short life he sought a deep relationship with God, and expressed that in his humble service of others. Pier was known by all as the happiest of people, and until his very end he loved and served others with joy! He was an activist, a pioneer, and gave all he had to help others.

St. Catherine Labouré

Was a daughter of Charity and devoted her life to prayer and serving the poor. It was this humble servant that Our Lady decided to appear to, and there present the 'Miraculous Medal', which was to be struck and shared throughout the world for special graces.

Blessed Rosalie Rendu

Jeanne Marie Rendu grew up during the French Revolution in 1789. She faced some tough times at an early age when her father and baby sister died and was forced to help her mother care for her two younger sisters. Jeanne's mother sent her to boarding school soon after. It was here she discovered the Daughters of Charity and was given the name Rosalie. As a Daughter of Charity, she opened a pharmacy, a school, an orphanage, a home for the elderly and a youth club. She became the "Good Mother of All" and worked closely with Blessed Fredric Ozanam to perform good works for the St Vincent de Paul Society.
